

HARVEY AND NATIONAL PET WEEK

Kempsford Church 30th April 2006
With the Reverend David Ackerman

‘ALL CREATURES GREAT AND SMALL’

This family service is available to churches, Sunday schools and school assemblies around the country, via internet web sites. Combining the history of dogs in church with the importance of the relationships between pets and their owners. Realising just how much faith and faithfulness play a huge role in how to care for one another.

The theme is to encourage clergy, on this particular date, to join us in supporting National Pet Week and its cause, by inviting pets to come to church. The order of service has been written and cartoons of Harvey are available to download as a reminder of the occasion.

Harvey has support from BBC Radio Gloucestershire and the CSV Action Group. We hope that this link will give us the opportunity to broadcast the event via local BBC radio stations around the country.

Harvey has is also looking for celebrity support in anticipation that they too might share the radio slot in talking to a nation of pet lovers about the National Pet Week message.

We are keeping our fingers and paws ‘crossed’ in anticipation that Harvey’s support to National Pet Week will be loud and clear - and who better to ask but the man at the top.
